

Art on Purpose presents

Community & Treatment

PHOTOGRAPHS AND AUDIO UNCOVER COMMUNITY ATTITUDES TOWARDS ADDICTION, TREATMENT, AND RECOVERY

photo by Tim Ward

photo by Tim Ward

photo by Tim Ward

photo by Nayeli Garcia

photo by Tim Ward

photo by Nayeli Garcia

On view January 19 to January 29, 2011 at Eubie Blake Cultural Center

Guided by Art on Purpose and Joshua Garoon, a Kellogg Health Scholars postdoctoral fellow at the Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health, residents from Waverly and Better Waverly collected images and attitudes from their neighbors through summer and fall 2010.

The results of their efforts are analyzed and presented in an exhibition that also includes works by artist and photographer Colette Veasey-Cullors, who conducted photography workshops during summer 2010 and documented the project's process.

NEW RECEPTION DATE: Thursday, February 3, 7:00-9:00pm

Community Dialogue begins at 5:30pm

A reading by writer and recovering addict Clarence Brown followed by a panel discussion on achieving a healthy recovery community, featuring neighborhood residents, researchers, and experts in addiction and treatment.

Art on Purpose

Eubie Blake Cultural Center
847 N. Howard Street
Baltimore, MD 21202
Gallery Hours: Tue-Fri 10:30am-5pm; Sat
10:30am-2:30pm.
410/225-3130 for directions.

Community & Treatment is made possible by support from Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health.

Art on Purpose, dedicated to empowering people to make and share art together around issues that matter to them, is funded in part by an operating grant from the Maryland State Arts Council, an agency dedicated to cultivating a vibrant cultural community where the arts thrive.